The Chaise is quite literally our long chair. With its many uses, it can serve well as an outdoor deckchair, a sun- lounger, or as part of an elegant, indoor living room. Exposing the strength of two thin materials, our Chaise carries the tired travelers' body on a thin sheet of steel with a comfortable, 10 ounce layer of leather. The sheet metal is rolled to allow ones body to comfortably lounge upon a floating plane.

Drawing inspiration from an archetype of a slim lounge chair, the Chaise bends on all the right places with the sole intention of providing comfort.

Thin plate steel is formed into position on the laser cut frame. Thick yet supple leather is then pressed onto the metal form. The inherently rigid plate steel reads soft; while supple leather appears as the strong material carrying the resting body. It is precisely in their interaction that the comfort of this piece is achieved.
